About what we do

FoodWise employs a combination of evidence-based educational strategies, accompanied by environmental supports, designed to facilitate voluntary adoption of healthy food choices and active lifestyles.

Empower families with limited financial resources to choose healthful diets and become more food secure by spending dollars wisely.

Expose children to new fruits and vegetables and why they are important.

Teach parents how to plan and prepare healthy meals.

Support communities in making the healthy choice, the easy choice where people live, learn, work and play.

About our classes

FoodWise Nutrition Educators live in your community and understand the needs of families. They teach about nutrition in a variety of ways:

- small and large group workshops
- mini-lessons

About how to learn more

If you'd like to talk to a nutrition educator about cooking healthy meals, eating better or saving food dollars, call Amanda Miller, FoodWise Coordinator at (920) 929-3174.

About our results

During 2018, FoodWise taught 4,735 contacts (duplicated count) and 1,233 individuals (unduplicated count) at single or series programs in Fond du Lac County or Sheboygan Counties.

1,020 individuals focused on choosing healthful food.

- Youth learned the importance of eating a variety of nutritious foods by following the USDA MyPlate and the 5 food groups.
- Parents learned to choose and prepare nutritious snacks and meals for their children.

49 of the educational contacts focused on food safety.

- Youth learned proper handwashing techniques and food safety basics.
- Adults learned to avoid cross contamination when handling food, to cook foods to a safe temperature, and proper storage and refrigeration times.

164 of the educational contacts focused on managing food dollars and food shopping.

- Adults learned to develop spending plans to ensure that they had enough money for food.
- Adults learned to choose low-cost, nutritious foods from USDA MyPlate, and that you can have a healthy diet, even on a tight budget.
